MUSEUM EDUCATION

How museums are changing their approach for an adult audience is an Erasmus+ project that aims to learn from best practice how museums are addressing adults to create learning effects.

Museums and similar sites enrich lives and support creativity and innovation spirit.

A visit to a museum helps to sharpen the senses and become more open-minded. It helps to think critically and serves at the same time as a joyful tool for social inclusion.

Target Groups

Disadvantaged learners are the main target group of the project. The innovative teaching and training approaches can enrich German language and integration trainings for migrants and refugees as well as courses for EU project management.

Erasmus+

The staff mobility of Skills International GmbH from Austria is aimed at modernising and internationalising the mission of the adult education organisation. Erasmus+ supports training measures at adult education organisations abroad.
